OVERVIEW

Jordan's citizenship by investment programme sits at the higher-investment end of the market, and that is rather the point: it is aimed at investors who value stability and capital preservation over a budget price. Jordan is one of the most stable countries in the region, and several of its routes are designed to return your money.

INVESTMENT ROUTES
Real Estate / Tourism / Renewable Energy
USD 750,000

Invest $750,000 in qualifying real estate or in the tourism or renewable-energy sectors — the lowest entry point to the programme.

Central Bank Deposit (refundable)
USD 1,000,000

A zero-interest deposit of $1 million held at the Central Bank of Jordan for three years, returned to you afterwards.

Treasury Bonds (refundable)
USD 1,000,000

Purchase $1 million in Jordanian treasury bonds held for at least six years — your capital is returned at maturity.

Business or Company Shares
USD 1,000,000 – 1,500,000

Invest $1 million in a business creating 20+ jobs, or $1.5 million in company shares held for three years.

KEY BENEFITS

- Several routes return your capital — the deposit and bond options are refundable
- A stable, well-regarded base in the Middle East
- Dual citizenship permitted; spouse, children and parents can be included
- No language test and no requirement to live in Jordan
- Suited to investors prioritising capital preservation over a budget price

HOW THE PROCESS WORKS
1
Strategy & Route

We help you weigh the refundable deposit and bond routes against the real-estate and business options, and confirm eligibility.

2
Document Preparation

We assemble the application — passports, police clearances, financial and source-of-funds evidence for the family.

3
Investment & Submission

You complete the qualifying investment, and the application is submitted to the Jordanian authorities.

4
Due Diligence & Approval

Background and due-diligence checks are carried out. We manage any follow-up requests through to approval.

5
Citizenship & Passport

On approval, citizenship is granted and passports issued for you and the family members included.
